A New Beginning

Original "slow art" by Kristen Palana

This artwork was created to support transitions, awaken inner strength, and mark the start of something new—whether that's a new chapter, a fresh perspective, or a long-awaited healing.

The new sprout emerging from the old tree trunk represents transformation, and the beauty that grows from challenge. At its heart is an invitation to reconnect with resilience—your ability to begin again, more versatile and stronger than before.

This artwork is a tribute to life's comebacks—those moments when something new begins to grow after loss, pause, or change.

Inspired by nature's cycles, this piece reminds us that even when we feel cut down or stalled, we carry within us the seeds of a new beginning.
