

Spiral:

Woven Together in Unity

Original “slow art” by Kristen Palana

This artwork is designed to inspire feelings of connection, harmony, and oneness with everyone and everything. The spiral is a sacred geometry form found throughout nature, from seashells and flowers to weather patterns and galaxies. It offers a visual reminder of evolution, infinity, and our connection to each other and the larger universe.

At its heart is a spiral, a pattern that resonates across nature and spiritual traditions. Woven through the spiral are patterns from cultures and traditions across every continent, alternating and flowing together. The intention is to honor the beauty of diversity while holding a steady center of unity.

Suggested Placement:

Hang this piece in your home, office, or meditation space as a reminder that many paths can share one center. Place it where you create or reflect to invite openness, grounded growth, and belonging.

Use it for meditation, visualization, or daily anchoring as you spiral forward with courage, curiosity, and compassion.

✨ May it remind you we are woven together, and your growth strengthens the whole.
