

Metatron's Cube: Oneness Meditation

Original "slow art" by Kristen Palana

This artwork is designed to support balance, harmony, and a felt sense of connection to the larger universe. It is a visual meditation on the truth that all things are made of the same essential shapes and energy.

Metatron's Cube is one of the most revered symbols in sacred geometry, said to contain every shape that makes up the universe. As a celestial being honored across multiple religious and mystical traditions, Metatron is associated with transformation, protection, and the flow of divine energy. This drawing layers that universal symbol with the Earth's own chakra centers, making it a bridge between cosmic pattern and lived, grounded reality.

Suggested Placement: Meditation room, sacred space, home office, or any room where clarity and centering matter. Beautiful in yoga studios, therapy spaces, and healing rooms where balance and integration are the work.

This piece is a tool for meditation and energetic alignment. Whether used as a focus point for visualization, as a daily anchor for grounded thinking, or simply as a reminder of our fundamental interconnection, it encourages balance, clarity, and a sense of oneness.

✨ May this artwork remind you that you are not separate from the universe, but an expression of it.
